Business Web Advertisement

Bonanza Baseball's Web site is offering ad space for the first time to local businesses. With 17,000-plus hits, the site has become a mainstay for parents, players, family, scouts and local baseball fans since its creation two years ago and is a great way to get your business positive community exposure while supporting high school baseball.

Ads are sold in separate packages depending on length with prices ranging from $150 to $450. Additional donations are also appreciated to help fund the program's budget. Businesses can buy packages ranging from the basic 6-month package or join the "450 Club," showing the community your support for its local high school baseball program.

If your company has a Web site of its own, the ad itself will also be linked to your business site as an additional means to redirect community consumer traffic to your site. All that is needed is a digital copy of your ad, much like a business card, and we will do the rest, placing it on the Bonanza Baseball Web site for the length of your select package. Ads will run in the order they are received from the businesses while members of the "450 Club" will appear in the "Club Box."
